The sub-committee could not agree and passed the subject up to the full committee, of which Mr. Mc-Combs is also chairman. A probable compromise will be that the Governor should dismiss State officers at will, but must have the Senate's consent to appoint must have the Senate's consent to appoint the Legislature and the appointment instead of the election of judges. Possibly these suggestions will be discussed in con-ference to-morrow, but their acceptance is doubtful.

The platform will use Gov. Glynn's name in praising his record, although some of the pure primary advocates thought that that would amount to an indorsement of him for renomination, which, of course, must not be permitted. which, of course, must not be permitted.
About 100 woman suffragists and about a dozen antis lined up before the platform committee this afternoon for their final hearing. Each side had half an hour. Miss Alberta Hill led off by presenting petitions signed by about thirty county chairmen and fitteen State committeemen. Then Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch made her plea.
